

To whom it may concern,

I am seeking an organization that is willing to invest in me as much as I invest in them. I look for a team culture that most closely aligns with mine, willing to teach me while also giving me the opportunity to speak up and offer my own opinions. A good mixture of independence and guidance through processes. I am a proficient self-learner, taking my time to not only be able to implement something but understand WHY it was implemented in that way and what made it work. I'm excited to work for a company where I can write and test well designed code. I have experience, and enjoy, coding in JavaScript, building applications in React.js with Redux that allow for a good cross platform experience. I look forward to learning more about this opportunity.

Best,
